This workshop is an introduction to painting the draped life model with emphasis on direct observation and accurate representation. Students will learn to convincingly depict the model through the study of light sources, color palettes and compositional devices. The main objective is to develop life painting skills, and to prepare the students to realistically paint the figure in oil. A methodical approach to figure construction, proportion, and the development of realistic color and value to depict volume and space will be stressed. All skill levels are welcome to this class and instructions will be given individually. In this class you will learn:

- * Fundamentals of Painting.
- * Material to use and how to mix paint.
- * How to start and complete a painting successfully.

Shirin Moosavi earned her Masters of Fine Art in painting from Laguna College of Art & Design. She has been teaching painting and drawing to all skill levels for several years.

She has been showing her work in galleries such as Gallery 793 at Laguna Beach and Arena One gallery in Santa Monica to name a few.
