

Explore Oil Painting Fundamentals through The Floral Still Life

Instructor: Marc Whitney

This class will cover proper use of oil paints, especially pertaining to still life paintings. Marc will demonstrate how easy it is to paint the subjects once you understand the fundamentals. Students will learn to see color, form, space and texture ... and take painting to the next level.

A native of California, Whitney was born to pursue the tradition of painting and began his formal art education at age 14, when he received a summer scholarship to what is now the Laguna College of Art & Design. Inspired by both the integrity and emotion inherent in realism, he went on to invest a decade in intensive classical training at the prestigious Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. Since his return to California, both collectors and artists have acknowledged him as one of the region's most talented painters of the Classical Realist Tradition. His paintings now hang in many permanent and private collections worldwide.
